

Developing programs is a discipline

Your expertise. Our specialized team. Partnering for outstanding results.

What makes Nationwide® a programs powerhouse? It's writing in excess of $1 billion in programs business. It's our long history of successful relationships with programs managers, offering nonadmitted and admitted solutions across a broad range of products and industries. More importantly, it's providing outstanding levels of support that allow our programs managers to write their business effectively and efficiently.

Longevity

We currently have more than 40 program partners, with relationships spanning more than 30 years.

Claims

Claims handling is crucial to a program's success. We work with our partners to provide the right combination of tools, talent and expertise.

Financial strength

Our size gives us a distinct advantage over other carriers. We have the capacity and capital you need to grow your program and the AM Best rating of A+ (Superior), FSC XV to back it up.¹

Onboarding

Due to our long history in the program business, we're adept at evaluating program opportunities efficiently and providing a smooth integration process.

Specialized expertise

We understand no two programs are alike. So we work with administrators to provide the specialized tools and resources they need.

Freedom

Our programs managers are the experts. We offer broad underwriting authority and flexible guidelines so our partners can write business the way they think it should be written.

¹ AM Best affirmed this rating on 12/1/22.

A dedicated programs carrier

In partnership with our programs managers, we offer a wide variety of programs with a focus on property/casualty and specialty programs.

Property/Casualty Programs

We write nonadmitted and admitted niche business through some of the most innovative and creative programs available in today's market, including ocean and recreation marine, motorsports, sports and leisure, energy, environmental and inland marine.

Accident and Health Programs

A variety of niche accident and health insurance solutions are available to specialty groups, employers and individuals. Products include sports general liability and participant accident, medical stop loss, travel, limited medical, legal, supplemental health, and association dental and vision.

Professional Liability and Specialty Programs

Strategic professional liability products such as small private company (for-profit and nonprofit) D&O, employment practices liability and related lines — as well as professional liability for lawyers, accountants, architects and engineers — fall within our appetite.

Workers' Compensation

We have been offering workers' compensation coverage for more than half a century. With our flexibility, experience and countrywide expertise, we offer customized underwriting and value-added claim management solutions.

We're looking for best-in-class partners

We're always on the lookout for programs managers wanting to establish long-term partnerships, and we're willing to entertain programs opportunities of any size. We're open to new, unique and emerging specialty products. If you're searching for a carrier and you fit the criteria for profitability, collaboration, documentation and detailed plans, we should talk.
